American Water Recognized on Newsweek's America's Most Responsible Companies 2024 List

Marks fourth consecutive year American Water has been included on Newsweek's corporate social responsibility rankings

Camden, N.J. – December 13, 2023 – American Water (NYSE: AWK), the largest regulated water and wastewater utility company in the U.S., announced today that it has again been recognized on Newsweek's list of America's Most Responsible Companies. This recognition illustrates American Water's continued commitment to environmental, social and governance ("ESG") leadership.

America's Most Responsible Companies 2024 focuses on a holistic view of corporate responsibility that considers all three pillars of ESG and is based on two metrics:

- KPI Research: More than 30 KPIs from the three pillars of ESG were considered for the ranking
- Public Survey: 17,000 U.S. residents were asked to select companies familiar to them and then to evaluate the company's corporate social responsibility in general and in the three sub-dimensions: social, environmental and governance

This prestigious recognition was presented by Newsweek and Statista Inc., the world-leading statistics portal and industry ranking provider, and can be viewed on Newsweek's website.

American Water's commitment to this mission is documented in its latest Sustainability Report. Learn more about American Water's demonstrated ESG leadership here.
