

American Water Charitable Foundation Continues National Partnership During American Red Cross Month; Donates $250,000 for Disaster Relief

CAMDEN, N.J., March 23, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- The American Water Charitable Foundation, a philanthropic non-profit organization established by American Water (NYSE: AWK), the largest regulated water and wastewater utility company in the U.S., announced today that it has again donated $250,000 to the American Red Cross, continuing its membership in the Disaster Responder Program. Proactively funding disaster relief helps ensure the Red Cross is better prepared to meet the needs of those affected by disasters, both big and small, across the U.S.

"We at the American Red Cross of New Jersey are grateful to have partners like American Water Charitable Foundation. Their support enables us to provide relief and hope to those affected by disasters large and small," said Wendy Vara, Regional Executive, American Red Cross New Jersey Region.

The Disaster Responder Program is a group of organizations and companies that take a proactive approach toward disaster relief. Members of this program pledge donations in advance of disasters. These donations power the Red Cross with strong infrastructure, trained volunteers, innovative technology, and critical resources necessary to provide relief and support when disasters occur.

"The American Water Charitable Foundation is delighted to continue its support of the Red Cross' mission and efforts to aid communities in crisis," said Carrie Williams, President, American Water Charitable Foundation and American Red Cross Southern New Jersey Chapter Board Member. "Prompt disaster response helps communities recover more effectively and become more resilient."

The Foundation supports three pillars of giving: Water, People and Communities. Funding for the American Red Cross is provided by the Foundation's Disaster Relief Grant Program, which supports disaster response and relief efforts in communities served by American Water nationwide.

In addition, American Water's Military Services Group has awarded Foundation State Strategic Impact grants to the American Red Cross Services to the Armed Forces, supporting military members, veterans and their families as they prepare for and respond to the challenges of military service.

Employee volunteers also strengthen this partnership through coordinated blood drives, serving on regional boards, and engaging in a range of additional Red Cross initiatives.

Since 2012, the American Water Charitable Foundation has invested over $25 million in funding through grants and matching gifts that positively benefit the communities where American Water and its employees live and work. Learn more about the American Water Charitable Foundation here.
